JIM WHELAN BOARDWALK HALL
ATLANTIC CITY

*"To laugh often and much;
To win the respect
of intelligent people
and the affection of children;
to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty,
to find the best in others;
to leave the world a little better;
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is the meaning of success."*

– Ralph Waldo Emerson

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations! Today marks a powerful moment in your journey - a celebration of your hard work, resilience and growth. You did it!

As you walk across the stage, know that you carry more than just a degree. You carry the spirit of Stockton. You are part of a legacy grounded in excellence, equity and opportunity. Whether you arrived here from across the state or across the world, you brought your whole self, and in doing so, made this community stronger.

You graduate at a time of global uncertainty, but I want you to remember this: you are ready. You've studied, questioned, listened, engaged and persevered. You've learned not just in classrooms, but in community through friendships, internships, activism, research and service. You've lived our Stockton values of dignity, respect, kindness, compassion and civility.

Whatever comes next, lead with courage and our Ethic of Care. Speak up. Lift others. Keep learning. You have the tools to shape a future that's bold, inclusive and just.

Stockton is strong because of all of you. I am so proud of the graduates you've become and excited for the leaders you are becoming.

So go forward with purpose. Let your story unfold. Soar Higher! Go Ospreys!

President Joe Bertolino

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Olivia N. Bereza | 9:30 a.m.

Olivia Bereza completed her bachelor's degree in Psychology with a concentration in Mental Health and a minor in Holocaust and Genocide Studies at Stockton in December 2024. She is employed as a full-time research assistant in the Center for Stroke Rehabilitation at the Neurolinguistics and Brain Connectivity Lab at the Kessler Foundation in West Orange. During her time at Stockton, Olivia conducted research under several faculty members working on dementia and type 2 diabetes; self-esteem and body, eating and exercise comparisons; and the connections between early life and personality. Moreover, Olivia completed an internship at the Therapeutic Self Care Center shadowing in-home and outpatient therapy sessions for adolescents and adults. Olivia was a recipient of the Koopman-van de Kar Stockton Foundation Scholarship, a member of Psi Chi International Honor Society in Psychology, and a recipient of the Dr. Keith B. Williams Psychology Merit Scholar Award.

Courtney C. Combs | 2:30 p.m.

Courtney Combs is a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies with a minor in Writing. Actively engaged in campus life, Courtney also excelled academically, receiving the Communication Studies New Student of the Year Award and earning Dean's List status regularly. Throughout her time at Stockton, Courtney honed her communications skills as a student worker and intern with the Office of University Relations and Marketing, where she was a founding member of the student-staffed Osprey Social Team. Courtney's student leadership experience includes two years in the Office of Student Transitions Programs as an assistant T.A.L.O.N. mentoring new students and helping them transition from high school to college. Courtney also interned with Stockton Athletics, served as the social media specialist for Stockton's Multicultural Center, and worked seasonally as a summer camp administrator and as an administrative assistant in a construction firm.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Dwight McBee

Dwight McBee, MBA, BSN, RN, CPXP serves as the Senior Vice President and Chief Patient Experience Officer for RWJBarnabas Health, the largest, most comprehensive academic health care system in New Jersey. He is responsible for the advancement and integration of patient experience strategies and priorities to align them with RWJBarnabas Health's mission, values and business goals and works collaboratively with facility and system leadership teams to develop and execute strategic planning of patient experience and patient engagement initiatives. Mr. McBee holds a dual role, also serving as the Chief Patient Experience Officer for the system's flagship academic facility, Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital in New Brunswick.

Dwight is a seasoned healthcare executive, with a proven track record of success. He is a three time nationally recognized Becker's Healthcare review "Chief Experience Officer to Know" and is the 2025 recipient of the prestigious National Humanism in Medicine Medal from the Arnold P. Gold Foundation. Dwight's previous leadership roles included Executive Vice President, Clinical Health Equity and Chief Experience Officer at Jefferson Health serving the greater Philadelphia region as well as Vice President and Chief Experience Officer for Temple University Health System serving North Philadelphia.

Dwight's passion for patient-centered care is fueled by his daughter's experiences living with Rett Syndrome. Dwight graduated from Thomas Jefferson University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing and received his MBA from Stockton University. He is a Certified Patient Experience Professional (CPXP) and serves on the Patient Experience Policy Board for the Beryl Institute.

HONORARY DEGREE

Andrew “Tim” Kiniry

Doctor of Public Service, Honoris Causa

Stockton University bestows honorary degrees on candidates who have made significant contributions to the University, the State of New Jersey, and/or to the United States with exceptional accomplishments in scholarship, research and/or public service.

Andrew “Tim” Kiniry has been awarded an honorary Doctor of Public Service, honoris causa, for his role as a World War II veteran and humanitarian.

Mr. Kiniry, of Philadelphia, exemplifies a commitment to public service through his time served in the military as a medic in the 45th Evacuation Hospital during the Battle of the Bulge, additionally providing medical care to surviving victims of the Buchenwald concentration camp.

Mr. Kiniry has given back to the Stockton community through education. Mr. Kiniry frequently speaks with students in our Holocaust and Genocide Studies programs, sharing his stories as a witness to war. Mr. Kiniry also speaks at local middle schools as an eyewitness for the events of the Holocaust, thus impacting the hearts and minds of the next generation of learners.

His experiences help students and the community to understand the Holocaust, World War II and how that history still impacts the world today.

Mr. Kiniry is a recipient of the National Order of the Legion of Honour, the highest order of merit awarded by France.

Academic Honors

Academic Honors listed for Spring 2025 undergraduate candidates' cumulative grade point averages, are calculated through Fall 2024, and indicate their potential eligibility for honors. After final averages for the Spring 2025 candidates are calculated, honors will be noted on the student's record. The student who meets the following eligibility requirements upon completion of all degree requirements will be awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude. At least 64 credits must have been completed satisfactorily at Stockton prior to graduation for a student's academic record to qualify for an honors designation. All courses attempted at Stockton will be included in the following calculations, except courses with P/NC or W (or equivalent) grades. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.950-4.000 will be designated summa cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949 will be designated magna cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849 will be designated cum laude. The calculation of GPA will be taken to three decimal places.

Academic Honors listed for Spring 2025 undergraduate candidates' cumulative grade point averages, are calculated through Fall 2024, and indicate their potential eligibility for honors. After final averages for the Spring 2025 candidates are calculated, honors will be noted on the student's record. The student who meets the following eligibility requirements upon completion of all degree requirements will be awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude. At least 64 credits must have been completed satisfactorily at Stockton prior to graduation for a student's academic record to qualify for an honors designation. All courses attempted at Stockton will be included in the following calculations, except courses with P/NC or W (or equivalent) grades. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.950-4.000 will be designated summa cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949 will be designated magna cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849 will be designated cum laude. The calculation of GPA will be taken to three decimal places.

Program Distinction

Undergraduate programs may convey recognition of remarkable performance in program work to students graduating, in general, with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5 in program-cognate credits. Additional criteria may be required by the program. For such awards, the phrase Program Distinction will be added to the degree and noted on the transcript. Programs that choose to convey this recognition will include all criteria in the relevant section of the University Bulletin.

Stockton University

Stockton University was founded in 1969 as Richard Stockton State College, a public four-year college within the New Jersey system of higher education. A residential institution with students drawn from across the state, Stockton is located at the edge of the New Jersey Pinelands, 12 miles northwest of Atlantic City and 50 miles southeast of Philadelphia. The largest campus in New Jersey, Stockton's award-winning buildings are set within 1,600+ acres of forest, streams, and lakes.

The University first offered instruction in 1971 and currently offers distinctive baccalaureate programs in liberal arts, professional studies, and general education as well as master's and doctoral degree programs designed to stimulate and challenge students intellectually. Stockton is strongly committed to preparing graduates for careers and advanced education, a commitment that encompasses helping students acquire interest in lifelong learning and in contributing to society.

Stockton's faculty members have gained a national reputation for their teaching, accessibility, and scholarship. In addition, faculty members actively mentor students, involving them in original research, hands-on learning, and community engagement. Through academic and co-curricular programming, faculty members guide undergraduate and graduate students to develop their independent and critical thinking skills both inside and outside the classroom.

Stockton University Foundation

The Stockton University Foundation, a non-profit organization founded to support innovative University programs, provides the means for individuals, organizations, and corporations to make gifts, grants, and bequests to the University. This private support enables the University to finance programs not typically funded through State appropriations.

Gifts donated to the Foundation support student scholarships, faculty and student research fellowships, improvements to equipment and facilities, and enrichment of student services and cultural programs. These offerings enhance the University's excellent record recruiting dedicated faculty, retaining students, and engaging friends.

The Chair of the Foundation's Board of Directors is Dr. Brigid Callahan Harrison '88. For further information on the Stockton University Foundation, contact Daniel Nugent, Vice President for University Advancement and Executive Director of the University Foundation, at Daniel.Nugent@stockton.edu.

Academic Honors

As part of a comprehensive educational effort to promote and recognize outstanding academic achievement, Stockton University grants baccalaureate degrees with the designations cum laude, magna cum laude, summa cum laude to qualified graduating students. Those graduates who have achieved academic honors wear a cord around the neck: a gold cord designates summa cum laude, a silver cord designates magna cum laude, and a white cord designates cum laude.

Honors

Students awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude achieve the following eligibility requirements in addition to those needed for a degree. All courses attempted at Stockton are included in the calculations for academic honors, except courses taken as Pass/No Credit. Students must satisfactorily complete at least 64 credits at Stockton prior to graduation in order to qualify for honor's designation.

Students graduate under the policies in effect at the time of their graduation rather than at the time of their initial matriculation. Currently, to receive summa cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of 3.950-4.000; to receive magna cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949; and to receive cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849. The calculation of GPA is taken to three decimal places.

Presidential Medal of Distinction

Stockton University is dedicated to social justice, enriching our communities and fostering responsible global citizens. The Presidential Medal of Distinction recognizes individuals whose exceptional commitment to these values embodies the spirit of our university.

Recipients exemplify the transformative power of partnership, having collaborated with Stockton to create positive change and inspire a spirit of service within our community. The medal recognizes remarkable contributions that have fostered a more vibrant and equitable environment, leaving a lasting impact that aligns perfectly with Stockton's commitment to fostering responsible and engaged global citizens.

Academic Regalia

Academic garb dates back to medieval times, when heavy gowns, hoods, and caps were worn by students to protect them against the cold, dank, and drafty corridors of their universities. In the Middle Ages, Europeans wore clothing of distinctive colors to indicate their status or profession. It was only natural, therefore, that when monks and students began to don distinctive costume for bachelor's (apprentices), master's (teachers), and doctor's (teachers who completed postgraduate study) degrees, the most conspicuous distinctions appeared on the hood.

The academic gowns of the past have been replaced by gowns made of lighter fabric, as students no longer wear them to keep warm and since most commencement ceremonies today take place in the late spring and early summer. Typically, commencement gowns are black, although some institutions have adopted gowns in school colors.

The bachelor's gown, comparatively simple in design, usually has no adornment other than its characteristic long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves, which are open at the wrist. The doctor's gown differs from the bachelor's and master's gowns because it sports velvet panels down the front and around the neck and three velvet bands across round, open sleeves.

The bachelor's and master's caps are traditional mortarboard while some doctor's degree caps are a soft, large beret. The tassel, which is usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, occasionally comes in a color representing the student's field of study and may be gold for doctors and presidents. Prior to conferral of a degree, the tassel falls to the right; upon conferral, students switch the tassel ceremoniously to the left.

The hood, as the most distinctive and symbolic piece of the academic costume, indicates the level of the degree, the field of study, and the institution conferring the degree. The length of the hood denotes the degree; bachelor's hoods are three feet, master's three and a half feet, and doctor's four feet long. There are also similar variations in the length of the velvet trimming. This trimming denotes the field of study for which the degree was awarded. The lining of the hood represents the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. Some of the colors of the trimming are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities, White	Nursing, Apricot
Accountancy, Business, Commerce, Drab	Occupational Therapy, Slate Blue

Mace

The origins of the ceremonial mace can be traced to the Middle Ages when knights wielded maces as weapons. As knighthood became obsolete, the mace became symbolic of power. It is now a traditional symbol of authority in churches, government, and universities.

Ned Gerber, Port Republic woodcarver who served on Stockton's founding committee, carved the mace carried by the Faculty Grand Marshal at Stockton graduation ceremonies. The three-foot shaft of the Stockton mace is crafted from walnut and holly, woods indigenous to southern New Jersey. The walnut is from a century-old tree hewn by Tom Lang, a retired member of the Stockton staff. Pewter, the metal employed in Stockton's mace, was a popular and practical metal in New Jersey during colonial times.

Stockton's mace is crowned with the flame of knowledge and carved in holly to denote mission. At the foot is a carved acorn, which indicates growth. Below the flame of knowledge is a triad of Stockton's former logo, a symbol of two trees, denoting environmental concern. Linked edge-to-edge and inlaid with holly, this symbol represents the three populations comprising the University community: students, faculty, and staff. The Great Seal of New Jersey, cast in pewter, signifies Stockton's aegis and sponsorship. A fluted section of walnut below the seal suggests the academic curriculum and the self-discipline necessary for each student to achieve a degree. Below that is a pewter cylinder engraved with the names of the first three Presidents of Stockton University. Finally, an engraved pewter nameplate identifies "Richard Stockton State College founded 1969."

STOCKTON UNIVERSITY SEAL

LOGO:

The original official logo of Richard Stockton State College as approved by the first Board of Trustees. The ribbon highlights the year in which the College was established.

RAMPANT LION:

Adopted from the Richard Stockton family crest, this symbol represents courage and strength.

BOOK AND CANDLE:

This symbol indicates the enlightenment acquired through lifelong learning.

TREE:

This image refers to Stockton's location in the New Jersey Pinelands.

OSPREY:

Stockton's official mascot, native to the southern New Jersey region and saved from extinction through the efforts of Stockton faculty members, now names Stockton's renowned athletic teams.

COLOR USAGE:

In keeping with the motto "An Environment for Excellence," blue represents the sky. Gold (ink or foil) complements the blue, adds an element of elegance, and emphasizes the value of educational enlightenment.
