

Arms I sing--and a man...

The Second Annual Marathon Reading of Literature at
The Richard Stockton College of NJ

Sponsored by OGRE
(Order of Greco-Roman Enthusiasts)

Vergil's Aeneid

April 5, 2011

K-Wing Circle

9:00 am-9:00 pm

All proceeds benefit charities.

Vergil's epic poem, the Aeneid, is the story of the defeated Trojans fleeing from their shattered city in search of a new home. They encountered innumerable and unexpected hardships along the way but eventually they found a place to establish their new city, the future Rome. The struggles and sacrifices of the Trojans are not unlike those made every day by dedicated veterans and hard-working, underprivileged people. The story of determination, valor, and sacrifice is timeless.

Multas Gratias Vobis Agimus!

We thank you for your support!

For more information, please contact: katherine.panagakos@stockton.edu