

FULLY HUMAN: Personhood, Citizenship, and Rights

A Discussion with Dr. Lindsey Kingston

Sponsored by: The Global Studies Minor, The Migration Studies Minor, and the Master of Arts in Holocaust and Genocide Studies

6 p.m. via Zoom
Monday, Nov. 21

Register here.

Join us as Lindsey Kingston discusses her book Fully Human: Personhood, Citizenship, and Rights. Dr. Kingston will show how “citizenship within our current international system signifies being fully human or being worthy of fundamental human rights. For some vulnerable groups, however, this form of political membership is limited or missing entirely, and they face human rights challenges despite a prevalence of international human rights law.”

In her presentation, she will show how a more “inclusive understanding of functioning citizenship also acknowledges that political membership cannot always be limited by the borders of the state or proven with a passport.”

Lindsey Kingston is an associate professor of International Human Rights at Webster University in Saint Louis, Missouri. She directs the Institute for Human Rights and Humanitarian Studies, which includes overseeing the undergraduate program in International Human Rights.

Contact lauren.balasco@stockton.edu for more information.

stockton.edu

Stockton is an Equal Opportunity Institution.