Republicans With Substantial Leads in Local Congressional Races	biz/orgOffers® TROLLBEADS, call Song Of The Sea By Song of The Sea - Nov 03	Torres Concert Guitar By SandPaper, The - Oct 23
Oct 25, 2012       Share         Polls conducted by the Richard Stockton College of New Jersey show that the incumbent       Republicans in the two Congressional districts involving Southern Ocean County have         substantial leads over their Democrat opponents. n the 2 nd District, which will include all of the area except Barnegat and half of Stafford Fownship come 2013, Frank LoBiondo is crushing Democrat Cassandra Shober, 55 to 35 percent, according to the poll released on Sept. 27. The college conducted the telephone poll with 624 likely voters. It has a margin of error of 4 percent.	Storm Safety Reminders By Van Dyk Group - Nov 02	- Oct 19
oBiondo had a very favorable or somewhat favorable rating with 63 percent of those polled. Another 19 percent had a somewhat or very unfavorable opinion of the veteran congressman. The remaining18 percent of those polled were unsure about him or were unfamiliar with him.		MOR
Shober's biggest problem is name recognition. Some 56 percent of those polled were not sure what they thought of her or were unfamiliar with her.	Click Here to Vi	ew Our Website
Congressman LoBiondo's lead is expected, given his 18 years in Congress," said Daniel J. Douglas, director of the William J. Hughes Center for Public Policy at Stockton College. Meanwhile, in the 3 rd District, which currently represents all of the communities in Southern Dcean County but which, after the new year, will only represent Barnegat and part of Stafford, Jon Runyan was holding a 49 to 39 percent lead over his opponent, Shelley Adler, as of Oct. 4, when the poll was released. Some 614 likely voters were contacted in this poll, which also has a margin of error of plus or ninus 4 percent. This race has attracted some national attention – it is, for example, on the vatch lists of both the Republican and Democratic parties – because Runyan is only a one- erm incumbent and because Adler, as the widow of the man Runyan defeated to win his seat in Congress, has more name recognition that many first-time candidates. With 12 percent of voters undecided," said Douglas, "candidate Adler still has an opportunity o close the lead on Runyan, though Runyan is clearly in a better position."	Any Where, Any Time! ONLINE CLASSIFIEDS Click Here to View an
The poll was released before Adler picked up the endorsement of the Philadelphia Inquirer and before the candidates met for their first debate.		to View an ing of Categories
Fifty-one percent of those polled had a very or somewhat favorable opinion of Runyan, a ormer Philadelphia Eagles star. Twenty-six percent had a somewhat or very unfavorable opinion of him; 21 percent were unsure or unfamiliar with him.
Thirty-nine percent of those surveyed had a very or somewhat favorable opinion of Adler, while 26 percent had a somewhat or very unfavorable opinion of her, and 33 percent were unsure about her or unfamiliar with the candidate.
Polls can change, sometimes rapidly. When likely voters were asked about Runyan and Adler, they were also asked about President Barack Obama and Republican challenger Mitt Romney. Obama, surprisingly, had a 49 to 41 percent lead in a district considered to be Republican. That poll, though, was taken before the first presidential debate, an affair widely considered to have been a victory for the former Massachusetts governor.
