For springtime, The Bay-Atlantic Symphony performs a delightfully cheerful program of great humor. Saint-Saëns' second piano concerto couldn't be more gregarious in its final two movements. Beethoven's first symphony magically combines humor and extraordinary profundity. The Bay-Atlantic Symphony couldn't resist opening with Rossini's ever-whimsical overture.

For our patrons with special needs, the Stockton Performing Arts Center offers wheelchair accessible seating, large type programs, and listening assistive devices. Please identify any needs you may have when making a reservation.

The Stockton Performing Arts Center, the Jersey Shore's Center for the Arts, is located on the campus of The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey, on Jim Leeds Road in Pomona (Galloway Township). Just 12 miles west of Atlantic City, the Center is easily accessible from the Garden State Parkway and the Atlantic City Expressway.

This program is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts and by funds from the National Endowment for the Arts.
