An International Perspective on Contemporary Developments in Victimology

A Festschrift in Honor of Marc Groenhuijsen

- Offers an overview of victimization and victim services from a global perspective, with a global cohort of contributors
- Adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the understanding of victimology and victimological issues, encompassing law, criminology and social policy
- Critically analyzes restorative justice issues from an international perspective

This festschrift in honor of the work and legacy of Dr. Marc Groenhuijsen provides an international and holistic overview of recent developments in victimology, taking a global scope but grounded in everyday experiences of victims. Its multidisciplinary perspective reflects a range of approaches and practices in victimology, including contributions from the fields of social work, criminology, sociology, psychology, and law.

Firstly, the volume introduces new perspectives in victimology, and then analyzes different forms of victimization in countries worldwide. It gives special attention to victims' rights and participation in the criminal justice system, detailing victim-centered approaches to justice through practices such as restorative justice and restitution.

Highlighting the growth and development of victimology from a specialization in criminology to an academic discipline in its own right, this book reflects the range of approaches and depth of scholarship in the field. This will be an essential resource to students of victimology, researchers, policy makers, and victim's advocates.
